

STRANGLING DEATH CAUSE JURY FINDS

Imaginary hearing of the charge at Wetaskinaw on April 2.

The jury, witnesses and others at the inquest under the direction of Coroner Dr. T. B. Stevenson of Wetaskinaw sat in tense silence through testimony of Const. J. E. Murray of the Wetaskinaw detachment of the R.C.M.P., and Det. Sgt. Broadbent, Edmonton, head-quarters, R.C.M.P., who conducted the main investigation, and Const. Pathologist Dr. J. W. McGregor was on the stand telling of injuries found on the body of Martha Renee in a post mortem examination.

Knapel did not testify but Const. Murray told of conversation he had with accused on the morning of March 23 in the town of Millet and later at the Knapel farm. Const. Murray also told of finding the body of Martha Renee on the floor of an upstairs bedroom, with the upper portion covered by a feather tick.

INJURIES

Dr. McGregor said there were blood smears on the nose and lips of the dead woman, with small superficial abrasions on the chin and the face was generally swollen. There were also small and large scratches on the upper arm and both shoulders. The skull was intact and unbroken and there was no evidence of brain injuries. There were pressure marks on the throat and neck indicating an effort to strangle.

In giving the cause of death as asphyxia due to suffocation Dr. McGregor said he was not asked the question by a juror, that the condition described could have been caused by hands being put over the mouth and nose of Miss Renee.

A report from the provincial agent showed there was no trace of poison in the brain or was a sign of poison in the stomach of deceased.

Features of the testimony of Const. Murray and Det. Sgt. Broadbent told him he feared the Renee woman would set fire to the house and the fact that although Knapel told police officers at Millet of trouble at the farm, Const. Murray might be doing nothing to indicate the woman was dead so that such a thing could be expected when police visited the farm.

HAVING TROUBLE

First witness was Const. John McGregor of the Wetaskinaw detachment of the R.C.M.P. He told of finding a phone message from Knapel at Millet at about 9 a.m. The latter said he was having trouble with his housekeeper, who had been banging furniture around at 230 a.m. at the farm house.

Knapel told the witness the woman was in a fit of temper and he had got out of bed to try and pacify her but she would not get into bed and swore at him. Const. McGregor said he asked Knapel if he thought the woman was crazy and the latter had replied: "No, she just in a bad mood," the officer testified.

He said Knapel urged the constable to come to the farm, and while the matter.

All this conversation had been carried by telephone and after consulting with Const. Murray the two officers drove to Millet, where they met Knapel in front of a hotel at about 11 a.m.

Const. Murray then took the Knapel and told the story of what happened next.

PLAYING SOLITAIRE

With Knapel in the back seat the party drove in the suburbs of town and parked the car. Knapel told the officers he had arrived home at 1:30 the previous evening, where he found Martha Renee playing solitaire in an agitated state of mind.

"She nagged me for not leaving any matches in the house so she could light the lamp but I pointed out there was a fire burning in the stove from which she could have lighted the lamp," Knapel told the constable, the latter testified.

Then Martha helped Knapel, Knapel's seven-year-old daughter, with her Sunday School lesson and the child went to bed. Knapel said he went to bed at 10 p.m. and Martha went to bed in another room. But Knapel got away from the story of the happenings at the farm home to tell him that the Renee woman was his common-law wife and said he had considered marriage.

QUESTION OF MARRIAGE

Knapel said she brought the subject of marriage up in November.

her 1940, and the former had replied: "This is Leap Year so I guess you are right," the constable said. Then, according to Knapel, the woman had remarked she didn't want her brothers to know of any trouble. When Knapel suggested the reason for this was because she didn't want her brothers to know she probably had a child, the Renee woman denied that such was the case. Knapel said he had told the officer he never did learn of the reason why the brothers should not know of a marriage to Knapel.

Then, according to Const. Murray, Knapel resumed the story of what happened on the previous night at the farm. Knapel said he was awakened at about 1:30 a.m. by Martha smashing furniture downstairs, beating on the door and pounding on the door. "I went downstairs and found her very angry," Knapel is alleged to have said.

"She took the lamp chimney and threw it out the back door. I wanted her to go to bed but she would not. I finally got her to bed but had a hard time," Knapel is alleged to have said.

Then Knapel said he went back to bed, getting up again at 8 a.m. and awakened Eleanor in order to get the child to town before Martha got up.

RODE TO MILLET

Knapel said he saddled a horse, put the little girl in front of him and, after taking a box of matches from the house, rode to Millet.

At Millet Knapel telephoned the police at Wetaskinaw but, being unable to reach the R.C.M.P. there, he went to call the constable at Leslie and tried to explain the trouble at his home. Later he left Eleanor at the hotel and returned to the farm, where he milked the cows and fed the stock before leaving again for the farm.

He closed the back door of the farm home but didn't go in before setting out for Millet a second time. At Millet he had breakfast with the telephone operator and then took Eleanor to the home of a Mr. Winters, where the other Knapel child, Annie, 3, was staying.

"I told Knapel it looked like a family squabble and then Knapel remarked he overheard Martha Renee say: 'I asked him if he had paid this back and he told me he had not. If they suggested the woman might feel she had some rights as a result of the common law relationship, but he protested she was damaging his home and might even burn the place down,'" Const. Murray stated.

Knapel told the officer he had this in mind when he returned to the house for matches before leaving. For Millet the first time that morning.

"I decided to go out to the farm but told Knapel I didn't like butting in on family affairs," Const. Murray said.

When the party arrived at the farm, Const. Murray went to the kitchen and living room. The constable decided to talk to Martha alone first, so knocked on the east door and when he received no response called out: "Is there any one home?"

FINDS BODY

When there was still no response Const. Murray went inside and at once noted furniture upset in the kitchen and living room. Going upstairs the officer found articles of footwear on the stairs. Hearing no sound, the constable proceeded to the doorway of the west bedroom, where he was startled by the limbs and head of a body protruding from beneath a tick and quilt.

An unmarked bullet, labelled "impartially fired," was sitting near the body. Const. Murray raised the tick and quilt and a woman was apparently dead. On closer examination he observed bruise and cuts on the face, blood on the nose and mouth, with bloodstains under the head. He said there was a strong odor of liniment in the room. He was sure the liniment bottle could not have been found. Leaving Const. McGregor in charge of the body, Const. Murray notified his commanding officer in Edmonton as he "didn't like the look of things."

Det. Sgt. Broadbent told of going to Millet on March 23 with Const. Richards, R.C.M.P. photographer. They accompanied Constables Murray and Richards and Knapel to the farm and made a thorough examination of the house.

In the dining room a table and two chairs were turned over and some milk spilled from a saucer on the floor.

It struck me at once that the furniture had not been thrown but

Australian Wheat Crop Is Smallest

CANSBERRA, April 4.—(CP)

Australia's current wheat crop probably will be the smallest in 22 years. It was estimated today the harvest would show $1,007,000 bushels, compared with 219,323,000 last year.

The average crop for the last 19 years has been 171,280,000 bushels.

The greatest decrease is in New South Wales and Victoria where there has been a drought.

With one billion missing and a fall of five-fifths in the wheat crop, Knapel told me he had changed his underwear that morning and later informed me he hid the underwear and a shirt in the barn. The shirt had a lower button missing that corresponded to the one in the body of the dead woman, Sgt. Broadbent said.

Later Sgt. Broadbent went to Regina, where the hair found in the dead woman's hand, several hairs from head of Knapel, clothing, sheets and slips from the bedroom were examined in the R.C.M.P. scientific laboratory. The laundry and pieces of wood in the draughtroom were also examined. The sergeant said, but did not reveal the nature of the findings to the jury.

Photographs of the body and of various articles of furniture at the Knapel home were shown the jury by Const. Richards.

The following were members of the jury: T. W. Ryan, foreman, G. W. Bagnall, W. Munroe, John Hay, R. Talbot and J. W. Parks.

PLASTER OF WALL

Some plaster had been knocked off the wall near a window and some of this was beneath the body. He also found a broken piece of wood from a dresser drawer in the room and a dress and a pair of glasses were on the dresser.

A human hair was clutched in the woman's hand and underneath the body on the floor was a small green button. Witness said he searched the house but found no weapon.

The sergeant then placed Knapel under arrest on a charge of murder after formally warning him.

Later, after further conversation with Knapel, Sgt. Broadbent returned to the farm and in the barn under some straw, he found a bloodstained, green-colored shirt.

SKIPPER SAYS HE HAD ORDER 'BLOW UP SHIP'

TAMPAICO, Mexico, April 4.—(AP)

The captain and chief engineer of the scuttled Italian tanker Atlas were jailed Thursday night by federal police, who quoted the master as saying he carried Fascist orders to "blow up" his ship if it ever arrived in a United States port and was threatened with seizure.

An agent of the federal attorney-general's office said the two convicted seamen were being held pending responsibility for the sinking of the Atlas Monday night off the coast of the United States, on charges of sabotage endangering navigation in Tampa Bay.

The Atlas was pumped out and towed yesterday, and examination showed the engine cylinder heads had been smashed with a sledgehammer.

Protest Seizure

BOOK CAPTION PROTESTED BY LONDON PRESS

Declared To Be Offensive
In Reference To
United States

LONDON, April 4.—(CP)—A caption in the new edition of "Angels All We're Angels" saying United States had decided to support Britain "to the last Englishman" brought protest Thursday from the London press.

"These were supposed to be the mightiest of our present friends. The caption, under a picture of a Lockheed Hudson bomber being driven by horses across the border into Canada from the United States, says:

"Horse traction was used in the early part of the war because the flying of warplanes between the two countries was regarded as non-neutral."

EDITH'S VIEW

"We think the United States have decided to support the war finally. It is the last Englishman's preparation for being made to fly through the air to the United States."

G. Grey, joint editor of the book and author of the caption, replying to the press criticism, said there was "a small group of people who want to get me into trouble... I used the expression ironically at the expense of the American isolationists."

"The difference between all the assistance given to war and financial aid in the last Englishman," he added, "is not very wide in my opinion."

TO BE WITHDRAWN

The New York Times declared Mr. Grey's writings before the war were "notable for their admiration of the Nazis in general and the Luftwaffe in particular."

Samuel Low and Company, publishers of the book, announced that the offending paragraph will be withdrawn from all copies of the book as have and every step will be taken to recover copies already sent out.

London newspapers published an account of the caption in their 3 a.m. editions, but later in the morning by correspondents to cable it abroad were blocked.

The ministry of aircraft production issued a statement saying that neither the publisher nor the author would be taken to recover copies already sent out. Mr. G. Grey, has no official status.

With all giving the new famous thumbs-up sign, symbol of British determination to come out on top, Lord Halifax, British ambassador to the U.S., is cheered by English sailors when he visited the Seaside Church Institute to dedicate the New York British Merchant Navy Club. He is in the center of the group. The lady is Mary Wilson, director of social service.

OIL INDUSTRY IS MOBILIZED FOR WAR NEED

CALGARY, April 4.—(CP)—The real job of the oil industry is to mobilize the industry as one unit and see that it provides aviation gas for the air force, petroleum products for the army and bunker oil and diesel oil on the two coasts for the navy, G. R. Colville, Dominion oil controller said Thursday in an interview.

"We have enough oil not here to take care of the three prime provinces," Mr. Colville said, but pointed out that to do this, last year there should have been a production of one and one-half million barrels, whereas the actual figure was only two million barrels short of this.

BILL TO GIVE CONTROL OVER CROP PRODUCTION

Highways Act

The provincial government, in order to meet the situation, has passed a bill to give it control over crop production. The bill is now in the hands of the legislature.

Mr. W. A. Fallow, minister of public works, introduced an amending bill in the Alberta House of Commons, which eliminates the existing law, which allows the province to control the production of crops, and gives it the power to control the production of crops.

An amending bill to the Seeds Act was introduced by Premier William Aberhart.

The bill stipulates that regulations may be made in particular dealing with:

(a)—Exclusion or creation or re-creation of any land, or other changes on such crop in the province thereof;

(b)—Exclusion or creation or re-creation of any land, or other changes on such crop in the province thereof;

Field Judge Is Kicked By Horse At Calgary Show

CALGARY, April 4.—(CP)—In the only accident recorded so far in the annual spring horse show at the Victoria arena, Charles M. Bear, veteran stockman from Saskatoon, and field judge of the Penitentiary and Belgian classes, was slightly injured Thursday when kicked by a horse.

Mr. Bear was inspecting a nervous thoroughbred entered in the light class, when the horse kicked out. The hoof caught the judge in the stomach and knocked him over. He was revived by attendants and continued judging during the afternoon. The accident happened just before noon. He suffered minor bruises and shock.

Coast Pioneer Dies

Protein Rations Are Required By British Children

LONDON, April 4.—(CP)—A post-war generation of shorter and weaker Britons, was predicted Thursday by C. H. Morgan, internationally known dietitian of the University of London, unless the government takes steps to insure the protein rations of British children are increased.

Writing in "The Lancet," authoritative medical journal, the physician said more meat, milk, butter, sugar and eggs should go into children's diets, even if it means a voluntary sacrifice by adults of their share of protein in favor of the young.

Protein Rations For Britain Lost

LONDON, April 4.—(CP)—The post office announced today that letters and postcards for British troops in New York between Jan. 30 and Feb. 3 and corresponding letters for adults in the United States had been "lost by enemy action."

PARACHUTISTS HAVE SURPRISE FOR THE DUCE

Jump Fighters' Invasion Of Italy Is Described

LONDON, April 4.—(CP)—Young British parachutists landing in Italy on the night of March 28, 1941, were given a surprise for the Duce, the Führer, as they stepped off into space, one of the fliers who ferried them there said in a broadcast tonight.

The speaker was an anonymous Royal Air Force officer.

The Italian have claimed that all the parachute raiders were rounded up but the British authorities said some of them did not return to base.

The broadcaster declared R. A. F. troops and crews carried the parachute fight with accuracy in a long series of flights over the sea and hostile territory and for long periods in bad weather.

RAN ON SCHEDULE
Although their objectives were "pinpoints," the ferrying ran according to schedule, he said.

"The night of the show, itself was one of the most beautiful you can imagine—full moon and glorious stars above patches of white clouds. The sea was clear of mist and snow capped the ridges of the Apennines."

"I had flown over that bit of country many ways for Africa and you could recognize it in moonlight... just like a landscape model we had used in planning the job and training the crews."

TROOPS ON GROUND
"It was our duty to see the parachutists on the ground and figure of the troops moved together and giving us a last check on their tactics as we passed overhead."

"The British authorities have said the attack was made for the purpose of demolishing certain objectives associated with the Italian army in the area had been suspended."

R. A. F. POUNDS ITALO-GERMAN LIBYA FORCES

Troops Advancing Along Coast Are Attacked By British Planes

CAIRO, April 4.—(AP)—The Royal Air Force has struck back at German and Italian forces moving up the Mediterranean coast in Libya. Middle East headquarters announced tonight.

The Axis mechanized units had forced withdrawal of British forces back 180 miles from the most advanced point of the British advance in Libya when the R. A. F. attacked.

"Bombing attacks of the R. A. F. made a heavy attack on enemy supply lines and on the Mersa Brega area of Tripoli during the night of April 2-3," the command said.

"After dropping bombs which were seen to burst in flames, the vehicles, setting a number of fires, were strafed resulting in loss of all-terrain vehicles, armored cars, motor vehicles, and machine-gun fire."

A successful bombing raid was carried out on Tripoli, Libya, during the night of April 2-3.

Mersa Brega is about 150 miles south of Benghazi, from which the British forces have retired. It is the most advanced point of the British advance in Libya.

The Italian-German force, estimated at about 20,000 men, was engaged in a battle with the British forces in the Mersa Brega area, which was believed to have been a tactical point of the British advance.

EAST INDIES MAY TAKE PART IN CONFERENCE

MANILA, April 4.—(AP)—Conferees on United States and British defense plans in the Far East may be reached with the Netherlands East Indies invited to participate, observers said today after learning Sir Robert Brooke-Popham is expected back in Manila Tuesday.

Mr. Brooke-Popham, commander in chief of British forces in the Far East, was here Wednesday from Singapore. He talked with Admiral Thomas Hall, commander of the U. S. Asiatic fleet, and Gen. Douglas MacArthur, former U. S. army chief of staff and military adviser to the Philippines. Mr. Brooke-Popham is expected to be in Manila Tuesday.

BRITISH BLAST NAZI WARSHIP HAVEN IN RAID

Heavy bombs were seen to fall around the drydock and several fires were started in the port," the bulletin added.

6TH ATTACK OF WAR
Last night's attack, the 4th of the war on the Nazi-occupied port, was the first time Sunday, when bombs straddled the docks at which the two big Nazi warships were lying.

German warplanes, meanwhile, directed a four-hour assault on a town in the west of England, where a communication said a number of fires were started but extinguished before the raid ended.

London had two bombless alerts and some bombs fell in eastern and southern England, but in the home counties around the capital.

One German bomber was shot down.

A British fighter plane also made a strike over a German airfield in northern France last night and shot down a Nazi bomber as it was about to take off. The air ministry news service reported today.

212 MERCHANT SHIPS ORDERED UNDER AID BILL

Current status of the aid program as follows:

1.—$1,500,000,000 has been allocated for entire war material including the 212 new ships and shipyards, plus funds for repair of damaged merchant vessels.

2.—$500,000,000 in old material has been released from army and navy stocks for transfer abroad. The valuation placed on this material, he said, might be called an "in between figure"—a medium between the original production cost and the scrap value.

3.—$1,500,000,000 of allocations are under study for purchase of more weapons and food for transfer abroad. He emphasized this allocation has not yet been made.

NOT TO BE FETTERED
The President said that the transfers of old material, limited by Congress to an overall total of $1,200,000,000 are not going to be fettered. But, he added, the transfers, generally will be similar to the transfer of material in which a large quantity of 15 million more guns were sent to Greece while he was visiting P. M. C. early this week.

The President would not say where the new shipyards might be constructed, except to say that unfortunately they cannot be located on the Great Lakes, and that some will be established in Maine.

The $500,000,000 allocated early last Thursday will cover the cost of the new merchant ships, the new weapons and repair of damaged merchant vessels. He added that the new damaged vessels may be doing in one of several nations, but he did not include any of the 60 Italian, German and Dutch merchantmen which the U. S. government seized last week-end.

The present allocation does not provide for repairs to damaged war vessels. He added that he does not know how much work on damaged British warships might be undertaken, because no such ships have yet arrived in American ports.

SHIP COLLIDES WITH NAZI SUB;
REACHES PORT

AN EAST COAST CANADIAN PORT, April 4.—(CP)—The crew of a big merchant ship, her hull pierced below the waterline, told today that her vessel had been hit after a collision with a German submarine.

The vessel, bound for the west coast, was in the Atlantic as the submarine came to the surface early in the morning. Water flooded the merchant ship's engine room but the crew swiftly plugged the hole with lumber, rope and tape.

The ship started to spill the ship but lost no lives and her guns went down after a few rounds. This led the crewmen to believe she may have sunk.

The merchant ship steamed away from the scene with all possible speed and continued her voyage.

ASTOR ESTATE IS BEING USED TO RAISE FOOD

LONDON, April 4.—(CP)—Viscount Astor replied today to a Labour motion in the House of Commons that the Astor family estate and others in Britain should be used for food production with a view to 25 per cent of his family's land being set aside for growing vegetables.

In a letter to newspapers and news agencies, he stated that the estate, which includes 15,000 acres, including woodlands, gardens and residences, are devoting their time to feeding the food crop.

Besides the food, gardens and farmland on the property, Lord Astor said he expects to produce from the estate, 400 tons of wheat and 420 tons of root crops more than before the war.

He said the estate produces in milk, he said, but there are 30 acres of potatoes.

PRESIDENT TO STUDY ACTION PLANT STRIKE

Allis-Chalmers Tie-Up Is Serious Stoppage, Roosevelt Says

WASHINGTON, April 4.—(AP)—President Roosevelt said today he regarded the strike at the Allis-Chalmers plant at Milwaukee as a very serious stoppage and added that something has to be done about it.

He said he had asked for a 1000 time—not very much more—before the strike would be a serious stoppage.

The President's comments on the strike situation came in response to a request for comment on a bill to permit the government to take over strike-bound plants. He said he did not read the bill and added there was only one really serious stoppage in defense industries and that was the Allis-Chalmers plant.

The strike has been confined to the defense production board for action.

Mr. Roosevelt refused to say what steps he might employ, asserting the defense board was moving to consider the controversy and he did not want to prejudge it.

Asked whether any Communist activity was prevalent in the strike, he replied in the affirmative.

To a query whether he regarded the Ford plant stoppage as serious as that at Milwaukee, Mr. Roosevelt replied, "Give them a day or two."

He said he was "off" a question as to whether the government was planning to take over any plant.

Enemy Planes Fly Over Greek Capital
ATHENS, April 4.—(AP)—Air raiders on reconnaissance flew high over this Greek capital today and were met by several bursts from anti-aircraft guns during a 45-minute alarm. No bombs were dropped. On the night of March 31, Albanian fighters only patrol activity and artillery exchanges have been reported in recent days.

BRITISH STICK TO MAIN ISSUE IN CAMPAIGNS

Yielding Of Benghazi Is Good Strategy, Paper Avers

NEW YORK, April 4.—(CP)—The New York Herald Tribune said editorially today the British withdrawal from Benghazi definitely is a reverse to Britain but another reassuring evidence of the British ability to stick to the main issue.

PENSION FUND FOR TEACHERS IS DISCUSSED

Amendment To Act Requires Payments From School Boards

Under provisions of an amendment to the Teachers' Retirement Fund Act, passed by the legislature sitting in committee on the whole assembly, Thursday night, payments in the fund will be required from boards of trustees of all cities, towns, villages and consolidated school districts outside of school divisions.

The law will be effective as from July 1 next.

It is provided that payments are to be made to the fund by the board of trustees of each city, town, village or consolidated school district outside of school divisions.

It is also provided in the act that the board of trustees shall make provision for the payment of the amounts required by the act to the fund.

The department of education has been notified of the provisions of the act.

Minister Plans Chair Petroleum Engineering University Of Alberta

Establishment of a chair of petroleum engineering at the University of Alberta was announced in the legislature Thursday by Hon. Ernest C. Manning, minister of trade and industries.

This chair will be established as a result of the passage of an act for the temporary appointment of a certain type of corporation tax. This act, which was passed through the house sitting in committee of the whole, provides for the raising of $20,000 in the present year, through the taxation of this amount, "on every company in the business of extracting or transporting crude oil by pipeline from Turner Valley to Calgary."

Mr. Manning informed the house that $20,000 was the sum which would be available to the University of Alberta for the temporary appointment of a certain type of corporation tax. This act, which was passed through the house sitting in committee of the whole, provides for the raising of $20,000 in the present year, through the taxation of this amount, "on every company in the business of extracting or transporting crude oil by pipeline from Turner Valley to Calgary."

"All Soldiers Welcome" At Knights' Hut

In the Knights of Columbus Canadian Army Hut at Camp Bowden, Ont., soldiers of every denomination are welcomed. Moving picture shows, concerts, social games from table tennis to checkers, and reading and writing facilities are made available to thousands of men each week. In K. of C. army camps in Canada and overseas such huts built "All Soldiers Welcome." The Knights of Columbus is one of the six organizations seeking war work funds through the Canadian War Services Fund.

By STAN ROSS
THE Hon. Mr. Fallow introduced an Act to Amend the Public Highways Act. All that remains now is for the Hon. Minister to amend the public highways.

The Hon. Mr. Maynard admitted to the house that he had been both speaker and legislator on the public highways. He was asking the house for a public account investigation of the remaining agreements. The minister has been astonished from time to time, but this is believed to be the first time that the quick-witted guardian of the municipality has ever been known to be speechless. It still doesn't seem possible.

The premier declared that since there was no refunding clause, and therefore there could have been no graft. "So what is to be gained by bringing honest citizens before such a committee," the premier said. And he said that he was not interested.

Mr. Davison declared that he had read the correspondence in 1934. He said that the government was not going to pay the money. He said that he was not interested. He said that he was not interested.

The investigation was defeated 19 to 1. The Hon. Mr. Fallow voted with the opposition. So that (even up to 1934) the government had voted for the government.

The Rev. Wingblade objected to school children being liable to explosion when damage they had done to schools was not paid for. The premier agreed to allow some latitude but he said "if pupils don't recognize school property they won't recognize their neighbor's property."

N. B. James asked if it was usual to authorize a city council to take over a city. He said that he was not interested. He said that he was not interested.

Mr. Manning informed the house that $20,000 was the sum which would be available to the University of Alberta for the temporary appointment of a certain type of corporation tax. RAYMOND April 4 (AP)—Officers of Raymond Union Jacks Association recently "compromised" themselves Thursday when they agreed to meet all travelling expenses incurred by Winnipeg St. Andrews in travelling to Raymond for their next-of-three interprovincial series in the Dominion senior playoffs.

Told of a Vancouver dispatch stating they would not be able to finance the series without financial aid, officials of the Raymond team agreed they had decided to shoulder the expense and had wired St. Andrews to this effect.

The association's executive committee, headed by Raymond's Harry Burgess with the second and third

Convenient Terms Make It Easy To Buy Out Of Income!

Dorothy Dix Says:

A young girl, who is just starting out on her first job, asks me if it will give her a few dollars in her earnings when the money comes. A young woman, who is just starting out on her first job, asks me if it will give her a few dollars in her earnings when the money comes.

The enough comes in to help reduce out a bit, but don't come to work pointed out like a cringing wisp and with a marooned nose and a mouth that looks like a red wax butterfly.

Toward the men with whom you work, adopt the motto of Washington: "Firmness with all, changing alliance with none."

Finally, my dear, be proud of your job. Be proud of earning your own way in the world instead of being a parasite upon some one else. Never apologize for being a working girl. Never pretend that you would be a wife or mother or stand behind a counter because you are tired with work.

What To Do

Sunday's Menu

BREAKFAST: Stewed fruit, porridge, country sausage, corned beef, ham, eggs, milk.
DINNER: Roast mutton, vegetable soup, mashed potatoes, green peas, fruit.

What To Do

Please tell me how girls should be treated at an informal dinner of the home. Where should the host and hostess sit? Should the hostess sit on the right or left?

BREAKFAST CEREAL

If you are tired of your breakfast cereal, make it more interesting by adding some of the ready-made cereals together. Add fresh fruit, light cream, and sugar.

Now, instead of being made from the carbon in the human body.
